DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement filed January 6, 2004 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(2), which requires a legible copy of each U.S. and foreign patent; each publication or that portion which caused it to be listed; and all other information or that portion which caused it to be listed. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

The claimed "DSC method" of claim 1 is not sufficiently disclosed in the specification to enable one of ordinary skill in art to make/use of the claimed invention. It is well known in the art that heat of fusion can be significantly affected by the heating rate of a DSC scan. Without knowing the proper parameters for running the DSC scans, one of ordinary skill in art would not be able to make/use of the claimed invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1713

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
  2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
  3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
  4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
6. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Hambsch et al. (US 3,928,503).

The invention of claims 1-8 relates to a compatibilizer comprising a chlorinated polyolefin having a heat of fusion of 10 to 100 J/g, which is measured by a DSC method, and containing 35 to 60% by weight of chlorine in amorphous portions thereof.

Hambsch et al. (col. 3, example 1 ; col. 4, claim 1 ; col. 6, claim 4) disclose a chlorinated polyethylene having a chlorine content of 37.4 percent. Regarding the claimed "chlorinated copolymer of two or more alpha-olefins", the examiner believes that Hambsch et al. meet this requirement because the chlorinated polyolefin of Hambsch et al. can be viewed as a copolymer of un-chlorinated olefins and chlorinated olefins. Further, regarding claim 3, Hambsch et al. (col. 2, line 3-6) disclose that the chlorinated products relevant to the disclosed invention are chlorinated products of polyethylene and polypropylene, as well as of copolymers of ethylene with varying amounts of propylene and/or butylenes. In view of the substantially identical composition disclosed in Hambsch et al. and the composition being claimed, the examiner has a reasonable basis to believe that the claimed heat of fusion measure by a DSC method, and the capability of forming a homogeneous mixture of a vinyl chloride and a polyolefin resin are inherently possessed in Hambsch et al.
